EXPLANATION OF THE FAMILY GROUP PICTURE

This picture was taken in the residence of Bertie Thomas White, 3601 Sunny Crest Ave., Greensboro, N. C., November, 1947, on the occasion of a Reunion of the Isaiah White Family. There were present: Standing --- Mrs. Bertie T. White, Mrs. B. T. White, Jr., Bertie T. White, B. T. White, Jr., Luther A. White. Sitting---(Left to right) Mrs. Jonathan White (hand on lap), Charles Lee White, Miss Ruth Miller, Mrs. Arthur M. White, William Blaylock, Mrs. William Blaylock, Arthur Monroe White, Mrs. Charles Lee White.

Mrs. Luther White was present but does not appear in picture.

: F O R E W O R D :

The ancestors of the Whites and Kerseys came from England and Ireland. It is certain that they were among the early settlers of America. The Kerseys may have come from northern Ireland (Ulster). Many of the older Kerseys had Irish traits.

It is my hope that someone among the many mentioned in this book will at some future date trace their ancestral line back to England or Ireland; that someone will be interested sufficiently to carry forward succeeding generations in a larger, more complete book. The records herein of the first Kerscys mentioned are based upon data kept by the Springfield and New Garden, N. C., Friends' Monthly Meetings. Credit is due also the Librarian, Guilford College; Mrs. Wm. Blaylock, Guilford; Mrs. Lee Andrews, Allen Mitchell, Ethel White, and Earl White, Archdale; Mrs. Wm. Folwell; Mrs. Charles White, Jr., and Mrs. Marshall Saintsing, Thomasville, N.C.; Vincent Kersey; Newport News, Va.; Grace Nowald, Wilmington, and Minnie Kersey, Xenia, Ohio; Arkas E. BUSH HILL --- Name changed to Archdale, 1887, in honor Quaker Colonial Governor. Settled by Quakers, 1786, when Indians were still around. Earliest settlers: Tomlinsons, Blairs, Hayworths. First there was a tannery; later a shoe and harness shop, and after Civil War a wood working plant operated by Clinton and David Petty and Moses Hammond. This village was located 3 miles from a railroad station, High Point, which has become a large manufacturing center. On another side, 2 miles away, was a small college (Trinity) which, moved to Durham, became Duke University. So, as a lad, I heard the distant trains and the sonorous college bell. Trees grow in the tannery vats and the wood working plant is gone, but Archdale with its fine school and nice church is still a good place to live.

Allen and Sidney Tomlinson ran the tannery, shoe making and harness business, general store and postoffice. They were also Sunday School Supts. Sidney died suddenly in Sunday School. Our doctor was James Tomlinson; Winship Wilson, 'Squire and historian; our seer, Wiley Andrews. Oscar Wilson carried on after his father's death. Oscar's widow, and his daughter, Mary Wilson Wall, with Mary Petty, have preserved the town's traditions in the pamphlet "ARCHDALE."

Before the Railroads came the wagon teams of ELI HAYWORTH hauled supplies from Richmond, Va., Fayetteville and Wilmington, N. C., and S. C. Eli piloted seven groups of pioneers from N. C. to Indiana in the 1830-40s.

The shoe and harness shops furnished supplies to the Confederacy, giving work to Quakers instead of objectionable military duty.

Former Bush Hill Families not included elsewhere in this book were:

Moses and Nancy Petty Hammond
Ellen, Walter, Martha, William.

Clinton and Victoria Hayworth
Petty: Laura, Mary, Roella, Edgar,

From GEN. DANIEL MORGAN
to his Great, Great Grand daughter,
HANNAH LUCINDA
BLAIR WHITE:

Gen. Daniel Morgan (1736-1802) fought in the Indian and Revolutionary Wars. He has a notable monument near his grave in the Nat'l Cemetery, Winchester, Va. His daughter, Sarah Morgan, married Colbert Blair, and this couple moved from Pa. and settled in Guilford Co., N. C., but later removed to Caldwell Co., where Colbert died. He is buried at Cedar Valley, N.C. His son, Enos, lived near the Quaker Meeting House at Springfield, N. C. He was buried in its Church-yard with a monument showing the names of all his children. One of his sons, Nathan Blair, married Sarah Kimes. The children were: Parker, Cynthia, Milred and Hannah Lucinda Blair.

Parker and Cynthia did not marry and kept house together after the parents died. Milred married Jacob Millikan. Children were: Sarah, Martha and Nerius Millikan.

Hannah Lucinda Blair married George White.

MORGAN: BOONE: BLAIR:

Colbert Blair's wife, Sarah Morgan, was daughter of Gen. Morgan and cousin of Daniel Boone. She was a dashing belle of Virginia. Colbert and Sarah's children were: James, John, ENOS, Colbert, Jr. They moved from Pa. to N. C. about 1775.

Enos married Hannah Millikan. Children were: Jesse, 1776; Sarah, 1777; Jane, 1778; Enos, Jr., 1780; Abner, 1783; Solomon, 1785, who married Nancy Clark; Martha, 1787, married Joseph Tomlinson; Hannah; Josiah, 1792, married Jane Tomlinson; Ruth, 1794, married a White and moved west; and NATHAN, Sept. 9, 1799, married SARAH KIMES (Great grandparents of Luther White); John, July 5, 1800, married Elizabeth Tomlinson. Enos Blair died 1834.

Note: See Blair Magazine, May 1929--(CS-71-B-645; Cong. Library Annex, Washington, D. C.

MILRED BLAIR, daughter of Nathan and Sarah Kimes Blair, married Jacob Millikan. Children: Sarah (Sallie), Martha and Nerius.

Sarah Jane (Sallie) married Geo. Sykes. Children: Twin daughters; one died in infancy; the survivor, Ruby Sykes, married Herbert Knowland. Their children were: Ann and Phyllis Knowland. Ann married Donald Bunday and they have a daughter.

Martha Ann Millikan, daughter of Jacob and Milred Millikan, married Nathan Brady. There were no children.

Nerius Manliff, son of Jacob and Milred Millikan, married Nora Cain. They had one son, Nerius Willoughby Millikan.

Sarah (Sallie) Jane and Martha Ann Millikan died comparatively young. Nerius, their brother, died March 24, 1950, at the age of 70 years.

THE WHITE FAMILY

Several branches of the Whites came to N. C. in the 1700 from Pa. and Va. This record concerns the Randolph Co. branch, chiefly the George White connections and descendants. George's parents were Jonathan and Lydia Hodgen who married in 1807. Thomas and Woodard were brothers of George; and Isaac White, sheriff of Randolph Co. about 1840, was his uncle. (See page 52). It is believed that George had an uncle who went west.

George White was born about 1820, and died in the service of the Confederacy during the Civil War. His son, Isaiah, went with him to the "mustering" place on the day of his home departure, to bring the horses back. George lies with several hundred of his comrades under a memorial for the entire group, at Fort Fisher, near Wilmington, N. C. In 1846, Geo. married Hannah Lucinda, daughter of Nathan and Sarah Kimes Blair. (Lucinda, born Jan. 13, 1824; died Sept. 1893). Their children were: Isaiah Thomas, born July 20, 1847; Parker Wilson, born July 17, 1849; Cynthia Moriah, born June 23, 1853; died Sept. 12, 1917; Sarah Elizabeth, b. April 24, 1858.

LUTHER WHITE, the compiler of these records, was born at Bush Hill (now Archdale), N.C., in 1871. His schooling was rural, with one year at Trinity College (now Duke University). As a printer he set type on the Prohibition Leader at Archdale; the Daily Workman and the North State, Greensboro, and the Union Republican, Winston-Salem. He married Jennie Alexander in 1896 and was appointed Railway Mail Clerk about the same time. After service on the Wash. and Parmale, and the Goldsboro and Greensboro Railway Post-offices he transferred to the Office of the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Washington, D. C., 1905. While there he witnessed the inauguration of the Parcel Post system and was assigned to the Division of Air Mail Service shortly before night flying of the mails began. Having taken a course in law, he was Law Clerk of the Div. of Air Mail Service. In 1929 he took a transfer back to Railway Mail Service, looking to earlier retirement, his last service being in the R. M. S. Transfer Office, Greensboro, N. C., Nov., 1933. His first wife passing away in 1945, he married Adelia Kinney of Mich. in 1947. Winter home, St. Petersburg, Fla. Summer home, Iron River, Michigan.

FROM WOOLMAN to KERSEY

The Kerseys with which this record is concerned were Quakers or Friends who evidently came to Pa. with William Penn colonists, including the Woolmans and Hunts. John Woolman, Sr(1655-1718) had one son, Samuel, and five daughters, one of them named Mary. One of Samuel's children was the famous John Woolman(1720-1772) Mary Woolman married William Hunt, Sr. Two of the children were: Hannah and William, Jr. Nathan Hunt was the son of William, Jr. William, Jr. and John Woolman, Jr., both died of small pox in England in 1772. Nathan Hunt, b. in 1758.

WILLIAM KERSEY, son of John and Lois Kersey, married Hannah Hunt about 1749. They brought a certificate from the Friends Monthly Meeting, Fairfax, Va., to the New Garden Meeting (now Guilford College, N. C.), dated June 24, 1758.

WHITE FAMILY IN INDIANA

By A. E. White

I will introduce myself briefly: Born in Orange county, Ind., Nov. 21, 1886; was a Government employee in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Washington, D. C., and New Jersey. For past twelve years have been in charge of U. S. Weather Bureau, Trenton, N. J.

The early settlers of Orange Co., Indiana, came chiefly from Orange and Randolph counties, N. C., and my grand parents, Absalom V. and Dicey Boyd White moved there about 1845. Grandfather, born in Randolph county, N. C.; 1819; my grandmother born there, 1821. I understand that my grandfather's parents were Absalom and Phoebe Adcock White, married in 1801.

My grand parents children were: Tamor, born 1841; Martha, 1843; William Wood; 1845; Elmira, 1848; Absalom David (my father) 1850; Lyndon Boyd, 1854; Margaret Elizabeth, 1856; and Dicey Emeline 1859.

Tamor married Abel Lomax and they had ten children. Martha married John Lynch and they had six or seven children. Wm Wood married a Tucker and they had a son, Thomas White. Elmira married Will Rominger and they had two children.

My father, David Absalom, married Rutha Kendall. They had 7 children. Lyndon's children: two boys and one girl. Elizabeth married Joel Melton and they had five sons and two daughters. This dear, kind aunt (Lizzie), tall and sweet faced, passed away a few years ago, age of about 90, living to be much older than any of her brothers or sisters. Emaline married Charles Pitman and they had two sons. Aunt Emma has been gone some 40 years, but I remember her as a kind and good woman. My father and mother, my aunts and uncles, were that kind of people.

Note that a majority of grandfather White's grandchildren bore names other than White. Still living besides myself: my older brother, Oliver P. White, Paoli, Ind.; my younger sister, Mrs. D.M. Craig of Albuquerque, N. M.; my cousins, Charles White and Tamor White Apple, children of Lyndon White, Orange county, Ind.; Ella Melton Willard, Rexburg, Idaho; Ezra Lomax, Cherryville, Kansas; Col. Harry Pitman, Little Rock, Ark., who served with distinction during World War I.

Lack of space and data forbids mention of all descendants.

My wife, Myrtle Anderson White, and I, have four sons:

Curtis, Albert and George, living in Michigan; Willard at Akron, O. Curtis and Dorene Glenn White have two small boys. Willard and Mary Tuck White have two boys and two girls, ages 5 to 10 years.

My brother Oliver White has 3 sons: Luther, Wayne and Oren; also 3 married daughters. Luther and Oren have sons.

Charles White has a son, George, and two married daughters.

And now as to my pioneering grandfather, Absalom V. White:

A few years after settling in Indiana, he joined a small group making way by wagon to seek gold in California. Surviving this rigorous and dangerous enterprise he "rounded" Cape Horn, returning by ship via New Orleans; thence by boat up Mississippi river to St. Louis, and by wagon 150 miles to Indiana home. If he did not get rich on this trip he seems to have acquired sufficient gold to buy a farm in southern Indiana. A full length picture taken in California shows a sturdy, resolute, fearless man, somewhat above average in height, with heavy black beard. Charles White has this picture, the rifle grandfather carried from N. C. and the 100-year old family Bible. Altho 42, and with a large family grandfather enlisted in the Union ARMY and never returned, dying in the service at Helena, Ark., in 1863. He is buried near Fort Curtis, on the bluff, Little Rock, Ark. Grandmother died in 1883, and is buried in the Cook Cemetery, near her home in Indiana.

If anyone can trace relationship to Absalom V. White, I would be very grateful to be informed; also as to final resting place of Absalom and Phoebe White, believed to be in Randolph county, N. C.

While the preceding pertains to my particular family, I have found in my researches that Andrew White(1752-1834) came from N. C. and founded Richmond, Ind. He was a Quaker, but is recorded as a patriot of the Revolution. Isaac White(1781-1823) came from N. C. in 1808 and was a member of Ind. Legislature in 1822. Another Isaac White (1850-1833) came in 1816. He may have been the father of the first Isaac here mentioned and came to join his son. I think that the above three all came from Randolph county, N. C.

I have found Whites wherever I have gone. They seem to be numerous. They were in every colony at the Revolution, and when first census was taken in 1790 there were 8 men named White, heads of families in Randolph county, N.C. Box 933 Trenton, N. J., 3-10-51

Mr. White's Article was abridged somewhat to conserve space.
